Use Barter Excess to Tender Your Healthcare Deductible -- Instant Barter, LLC Helping Americans Preserve Their Quality of Life

PHOENIX, AZ – (Marketwired) – 05/08/15 – Instant Barter, LLC (<http://www.InstantBarter.com>), is helping more Americans secure the healthcare and quality of life they need by teaching them how they can use their excess and barter to cover their healthcare deductibles.

Instant Barter connects thousands of business owners with one another in an ever-growing network that lets consumers use trade the same way as they would cash. When barter is made, the excess is placed on a special barter account that can be redeemed the same as cash at thousands of locations for countless services, including things like restaurants, auto repair, home repair, moving services, dentists and even doctors, to name a few.

"Everyone is talking about Obamacare and health insurance, but Instant Barter has devised a way to pay your healthcare deductible by using your excess with an alternative healthcare program that allows you to actually be proactive about your health," explained CEO of Instant Barter, Ana Hawk.

With Instant Barter, consumers can rely upon using their excess to cover their healthcare deductible by redeeming it at a participating medical location as opposed to tendering the difference of their insurance premium out-of-pocket.

"My mission is to educate people that it is all just currency. This is why we developed My Barter Game, INSTANT BUSINESS Magazine, Our Barter Business curriculum and TV show, in an effort to reach and teach the masses to become sustainable no matter where they are in life," Hawk said.

Hawk further emphasized that medical billing has become a more than $300 billion dollar industry annually, but most Americans are struggling to make their healthcare premium payments much less meet their deductibles. Now by using an innovative barter approach, consumers have the option to utilize their barter excess as payment tender on health insurance deductibles instead.
