New Technology Creates Advances in Skin Care

Regina-C Skin Care Announces New Look Based Upon New Technology

ARLINGTON, TX--(Marketwired - May 27, 2016) - Regina-C, an established skin care products company, announces technology breakthroughs for its exclusive Gold line of cosmetic, beauty and skin care products. Featured is PhytoProActive Technology (PPA), which is a unique delivery system providing improved hydration, protection, skin density, firmness, elasticity, collagen boost and wrinkle reduction. With such an impressive list of benefits, the company is re-positioning itself with a new look, based on the technology advances.

According to Dixie Medford, president of Regina-C LLC, "I have sought out and worked with world-class scientists and technicians to formulate Regina-C. Our result – reduction in fine lines and wrinkles, improved firmness, elasticity and complexion. Our mission is to provide ageless, timeless and flawless skin for everyone."

Ron Paul: "Buying Gold Will Not Be Enough – Here's Next Step To Take"

(Marketwired)

The new technologies are remarkable. The PPA is based on Silicium, which is naturally present in younger skin. It protects protein and collagen structures. In addition, Live and Stem Plant Cells are added to provide maximum efficacy. With patented Biotechnology methods, active live plant cells are produced free of pollution.

For example, one of the ingredients, Methylsilanol Mannuronate, an organic derivative of seaweed, binds moisture in the epidermis, resulting in the firming and strengthening of the skin. It also improves cell communication and the fibroblast number. All in the all, the result is as promised – age-defying beauty, freshness and skin clarity.

Founder Dixie Medford is world renowned in the fields of medical aesthetics for skin care, permanent and corrective cosmetics. She has been featured on ABC 20/20, Fox news and numerous other television and radio shows. She is also a board certified instructor of dermatologists, aestheticians, cosmetic surgeons and other professionals. Simply put, she is a world-class skin care and cosmetic procedures and ingredients expert.

Regina-C LLC has been in existence for nine years and utilizes a direct selling format. These technology advances will revitalize the company and open the door for continued growth and success, globally. It offers discounts and sales for new distributors and customers. Online orders and auto-ship are common ways to access the products.

Founder Dixie Medford is committed to not only the success of Regina-C, but to the greater community. She makes it a point to give back to the community and the world with humanitarian aid. She teaches others how to care for themselves and how to protect the largest organ in the body – the skin.
